Consequences of the Internet:
Disintermediation: Eliminating the middleman
Dematerialization and the future of the book
Disaggregation: things fall apart
The Internet as Disintermediator
"Cutting Out the Middleman"

E-commerce is dominant or major channel

- Downloadable products (software, mp3's, pornography)
- Travel/event tickets/etc.
- Retail stocks & investment products
- Public records

Successful disintermediation

- Books (new & used)
- Some electronics & photo
- Some apparel (c. 10-15%)
- Rental real estate
- Used automobiles
Limited or niche disintermediation

Real estate for sale
Groceries & beverage
New automobiles
Pet food

… but price information etc. is disintermediated in all markets

Books? Where we're going we don't need books

A clash of fetishisms

"Nobody is going to sit down and read a novel on a twitchy little screen. Ever." — E. Annie Proulx

“Paper is just an object that [some] information has been sprayed onto in the past…” — Ted Nelson

In the future, physical books will be of interest mainly to those "addicted to the look and feel of tree flakes encased in dead cow tree flakes encased in dead cow'

books...
... and the books we actually read
Sorting out the affordances of new technologies

Material features of documents enable:

- Characteristic modes of interacting with documents
- Symbolic & iconic roles of documents
- Social practices that determine use & interpretation of documents
Beyond “twitchy little screens:"

Material limits as features: the fixity of representation, interaction with the body

"My readers… will see in the tell-tale compression of the pages before them, that we are all hastening together to perfect felicity."

Jane Austen, in the final chapter of Northanger Abbey
A Case in Point:
Dictionaries and Encyclopedias
Affordances of the online encyclopedia

Online form enables

• updating,
• easy search,
• linking to other articles & sites
• animations, multimedia, etc.

Affordances of online Dictionaries

Facilitates search, interaction with other applications, dynamic definition, corpus interaction, etc.
Presence of the Print Dictionary
The crisis of scholarly publishing

Journals should be easier than books to move to digital distribution

- Easy to read online or print out articles
- Production uses templates
- Predictible print runs
- Appeal to general disciplinary community
- One-time purchase decisions
  - Lower marketing costs per sale
  - Each annual renewal adds value
But university libraries are being squeezed!

Journal publishers: the last colonialists?

Disaggregation of contents
Why don't scholars self-publish?
Will newspapers go under?
A Perfect Storm for the "Old Media"

Craigslist etc. divert classified advertising
News aggregators, blogs & online sources capture audience
National sources displace local sources online ("Last man standing")
Increased competition lowers ad rates
The Disaggregation of Content

Specialized sites displace newspapers as sources of information about sports, business, entertainment, weather, listings, opinion, etc.

Personalization: the daily "me"
The end of the newspaper?

Why keep paper newspapers around?

"The newspaper model - putting text on paper - is becoming a dinosaur; much like the horse and buggy disappeared when the automobile came on the scene."
2008: "Free" newspaper readership exceeds paid readership

"We don't have a crisis of audience. We have a crisis of revenue."

"People are used to reading everything on the net for free, and that's going to have to change," Rupert Murdoch, 4/6/09
Where Americans get their news

Local TV station: 78%
National network: 73%
Online sources: 54%
Radio news: 50%
Local newspaper: 50%
National newspaper: 17%

Online news users are wealthier, younger, better educated, whiter than other Internet users or general population, and far more likely to have broadband & wireless access.

The Future of News

Economic models for digital newspapers or news gathering:

- advertising
- "pay wall" (WSJ) or "freemium" (NYT until recently)
- pay-per-view via microcredit
- monthly "all you can read" for group of publishers à la cable packages
- "tax" on ISP fees
- Subsidized foundations & universities
- "Last man standing"
